

Children See Children Learn

Your child learns from what you say, how you say it and what you do.

Take a moment to think about how you can help your child at each stage of development.

Help your child understand why their behaviour is not acceptable and what they can do differently.

Teach your child words
to express
feelings and needs.

Look at the situation from your child's point of view and acknowledge your child's feelings.

Give your child choices
that are safe.
Make sure
that you will accept the choices
they select.
